These indexes were from the original copies that were read and transcribed by June B. Barekman in the Court House at Vincennes, Indiana from 1963-1966. The first ditto masters were typed by my associate, Mrs. Reta Oaks, and printed by the Genealogical Reference Builders. Printed at Pinehurst, Idaho by my associate, Mrs. Robertalee Lent.

A list of the donations of four hundred acres of land, given to the heads of families in Vincennes, in the year 1783, with the names of the present claimants and the number of the lot drawn by each, as laid off by order of the governors.

RIGHTS CONFIRMED BY GOVERNORS

The first column of the following table contains the names of the several persons to whom donations of four hundred acres each, of land, were given by the resolve and act of Congress of the 29th August, 1788, and 3d of March, 1791, as heads of families in Vincennes, on or before the year 1783; and which, conformably to the directions of the said resolve, have, by the different governors, been allotted and laid out to each of them. The second column contains the number of the tract so allotted to each; and the third column contains the names of the several persons who have entered the same in the register's office, as present claimants.

List of militia donations of 100 acres granted by the governors to the militiamen, in Vincennes, on 1st August, 1790

The first column of the following table contains the names of the several persons to whom donations, of one hundred acres of land each, were granted by the different governors, conformably to the act of Congress of 3d March, 1791 as militia men duly enrolled in the militia at Vincennes, on 1st August, 1790 and had done militia duty; the second column, the number of the tract allotted to such of the claimants as have had their donations laid out in the general donation tract, on the south side of White river; and the third,, names of those who have entered their claims thereto in the register's office, as assignees or otherwise.

The several tracts owned by those persons to whose names no number is affixed in the second column, have, by permission of the governors, had the same laid, either on their improvements, or are not yet surveyed.

A transcript of rejected claims which, in the opinion of the commissioners, ought to have been confirmed had they not been barred by the 4th section of the act of Congress entitled "An act providing for the sale of certain lands in the Indiana Territory, and for other purposes."

THE CLAIM OF RENE CAMPEAU FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that claimant was on the militia roll at Vincennes, from the year 1786, until the year 1795. By the act of 3d of March, 1791, claimant would be entitled; but his absence from the Territory during the time allowed by law for registering claims to land, not being proved, the claim is rejected on that ground.

THE CLAIM OF FRANCOIS CARDINAL FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that claimant did militia duty at Vincennes under deponent for two years previous to the marching of Col. Hamtramck up the Wabash, (that is to say the fall of the year 1790,) and that he was ordered to march with said expedition. He, therefore, would be entitled under the above recited act; but it not being established that he was absent from the Territory during the time allowed by law for registering claims to land, the claim is rejected on that ground only.

A TRANSCRIPT OF CLAIMS WHICH HAVE BEEN REJECTED ON THEIR MERITS

THE CLAIM OF SAMUEL BRADLEY FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that claimant came to Vincennes, in the year 1785, lived and did militia duty therein until 1788, went to Illinois and returned in 1789, that he then went to Kentucky to join his family, whom he moved to Vienna on Grand river. That he came to Vincennes on business, in July or August 1790, when he was detained until October waiting for company to return home with; it is further proved that he was ordered to go on Col. Hamtramck's expedition, (in that year) was seen on the parade with a gun on his shoulder, but did not go. From the circumstances stated it appears that claimant was not a settled inhabitant of Vincennes, but a traveler, whose place of residence was Kentucky, that he was accidentally detained by apprehension of the Indians, and waited for company.

The opinion of the commissioners is, that the benefit of the act of 1796, in relation to militiamen, applies only to the inhabitants and not to so journers. The claim is therefore rejected.

THE CLAIM OF PIERRE DUMAY FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 acres.

It is proved that claimant was on the militia roll, and did militia duty at Vincennes, but it is uncertain at what time; that he left Vincennes four or five years before Colonel Hamtramck's expedition against the Indians (in the year 1790). The claim is rejected, as not coming within the purview of the act 1791.

THE CLAIM OF THE HEIRS OF JOSEPH DUMAY FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that Joseph Dumay came to Vincennes about thirty-eight years ago, and lived there until about nine years ago, when he died; that he acted as an interpreter at the United States garrison at Vincennes, and at Greenville in 1795, but it is not known whether he was enrolled in the militia, and it is believed by deponent that he was exempted by being interpreter; the benefit of the act 1791 cannot be extended to Joseph Dumay without a forced construction. The claim is rejected.

THE CLAIM OF ISAAC T. DECKER FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that the claimant did militia duty, in the summer of 1790, at the river Duchis station, about six miles from Vincennes; that claimant is older than deponent's son Moses, who was born in the year 1780, and who has received a militia donation, (from the governor when acting as commissioner). It does not appear that claimant was enrolling on the first of August, 1790, but on the contrary was not of sufficient age to be enrolled, or to do military duty. The claim is therefore rejected.

THE CLAIM OF CHARLES FINLEY FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that claimant came to Vincennes in the year 1786, stayed about six months and went away, returned to Vincennes with the Kentucky militia who went with Colonel Hamtramck against the Indians up the Wabash, in the year 1790, from which facts it appears that claimant was not a resident at Vincennes. The provisions of the act of 1791 in behalf of militia men at Vincennes, cannot apply to him. The claim is therefore rejected.

THE CLAIM OF THE HEIRS OF JEAN BAPTISTE FRIZY FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that Jean Baptiste Frizy lived in Vincennes, in the year 1786, did militia duty therein, went with General Clark against the Indians in the same year; that he left the country in the year 1787, and has never returned. He cannot come under the law of 1791. The claim is rejected.

THE CLAIM OF JEAN BAPTISTE LANGLOIS FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved claimant did militia duty at Vincennes, twenty-one years ago next September (to wit September, 1790), in Captain Edelin's company, wherein he remained as a private until about fourteen or fifteen years ago; that he has continued in the country ever since. It not appearing by any testimony adduced, that claimant did militia duty previous to and on the first of August, 1790, the claim is rejected.

THE CLAIM OF LUKE MATSON FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that claimant did militia duty in the summer of the year 1790, at the river Duchis station (about six miles from Vincennes); that he is perhaps two years older than deponent's son Moses (who was born in the year 1780.) At such a tender age the claimant's services as a militiaman could not be of any real importance, and the act of 1791 cannot be understood to apply to children, but to effective militiamen. The claim is therefore rejected.

THE CLAIM OF JACOB PEA FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that claimant did militia duty at Vincennes, in the years 1785, 1786, and 1787, and then went away; that it is not known whether he was at Vincennes in the year 1790. By the usual construction of the act of 1791, in favor of Militiamen, those only who having done militia duty and were found on the roll on the first of August, 1790, are entitled to the grant of one hundred acres; the claimant in this case being absent long before and at that time cannot be entitled. The claim is rejected.

THE CLAIM OF THE HEIRS OF JOSEPH PATTERSON FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES.

It is proved that Joseph Patterson was an effective militiaman at Vincennes in the year 1786, was wounded by the Indians at the battle on Embarras creek, in the same year, staid at Vincennes some time, and went away to have his wounds cured, and has since died. This case cannot be considered as embraced by the law of 1791, for reasons assigned in the foregoing case. The claim is rejected.

THE CLAIM OF JOHN RICHARDSON FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that claimant lived in and did militia duty at Vincennes in the years 1785 and 1786, and went away in 1787. This case cannot be considered as coming within the purview of the act of 1791, for the reasons assigned in the aforesaid case. The claim is rejected.

THE CLAIM OF EDMUND HOGEN FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that claimant came to Vincennes in the year 1786, and did militia duty therein for about a year, and then went away. This case not being considered as embraced by the law of 1791, for the reasons assigned in the foregoing case, the claim is rejected.

THE CLAIM OF THE HEIRS OF JOHN GLASS FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that John Glass came to Vincennes in the year 1785; that he was in the battle on Embarras creek with the Indians; that he piloted General Harmer from the mouth of Pidgeon on the Ohio to Vincennes, and died in the latter end of the year 1788. The claim is rejected for the foregoing reasons.

THE CLAIM OF THE HEIRS OF JOEL BAKER FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that Joel Baker came to Vincennes in the year 1785, and did militia duty therein; was in the battle of Embarras in 1786; sometime afterwards he went on a hunting party with some Indians, and was heard of no more; common report says he was killed by the Indians. The claim is rejected for the same reasons as above.

THE CLAIM OF JAMES TALBERT FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES.

It is proved that claimant did militia duty at the river Duchis station, (about six miles from Vincennes,) in the year 1790, but whether he was enrolled is not known; that he stood his draft when Colonel Hamtramck marched up the Wabash in the fall of that year. No evidence is adduced to prove that claimant did militia duty before or on the 1st of August, 1790. For the want of such evidence the claim is rejected.

SPECIAL CASES

THE CLAIM OF THE HEIRS OF JOSEPH PANCAKE FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 400 ACRES

It is proved that Joseph Pancake was an effective militiaman at Vincennes in the year 1786; that he was with and under deponent's (John Small,) command in the same year the engagement with the Indians on Embarras, where he was killed.

THE CLAIM OF THE HEIRS OF JACOB HOWELL FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES.

it is proved that Jacob Howell was an effective militiaman at Vincennes, in the year 1786; that he commanded a party at the engagement with the Indians on Embarras, wherein he was killed.

THE CLAIM OF THE HEIRS OF ALEXANDER WILSON FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that Alexander Wilson came to Vincennes in the year 1784; that he lived and did militia duty therein, until the year 1786, when he was killed by the Indians in the Embarras engagement.

THE CLAIM OF THE HEIRS OF DANIEL SULLIVAN FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that Daniel Sullivan came to Vincennes in the year 1785; when he did militia duty until 1790, in the month of April of which year he was killed by the Indians.

THE CLAIM OF THE HEIRS OF JACOB TEVEBAUGH, FOR A MILITIA DONATION OF 100 ACRES

It is proved that Jacob Tevebaugh came to Vincennes in the year 1785, did militia duty therein until the year 1790, and that in the month of April of the same year he was killed by the Indians, with Daniel Sullivan.

Preceding commissioners have construed the provision of the act of 1791, relating to militia grants, strictly rejecting the claim of those who had left the country before the first of August, 1790, and although they had done militia duty for years before, and granted one hundred acres to such as, however recently arrived in the country, happened to be on the militia roll on that day. The present commissioners entertained some doubts on the correctness of that construction and were inclined to believe that more liberality would accord better with the intentions of Congress; they could not entirely reject the idea, that the clause of the act of 1791, in favor of militiamen, went to provide a reward of one hundred acres of land for every man who, having not received the donation allotted to the heads of families had done militia duty during their residence in the country, since it had come under the American government, and that the enrollment, on the first day 17__, was required as evidence of the performance of that duty rather than a condition indispensable for obtaining the bounty. Fully sensible, however, of the importance and necessity of an uniform system of decisions, they have hitherto made no innovations therein in relation to militia claims, and rejected those which are predicated upon performance of militia duty not extending to the first of August, 1790. But the foregoing claims present themselves under a very different aspect. The several persons in whose right the bounty of one hundred acres is demanded by their representatives, not only did militia duty, but lost their lives, some in the actual performance of that duty, and all by the hands of the common enemy. To have peremptorily rejected them, would have savored of injustice; to have confirmed them, would have been perhaps too great a deviation from the letter if not the spirit of the law and mode hitherto adopted in the decision of land claims. Under these circumstances, the commissioners, under a strong impression of equity of the claims alluded to, have deemed it proper to lay the whole in the form of a special report, under the view of Congress, who alone can grant the relief which the law puts, (perhaps,) out of the power of the commissioners to award; and feel no hesitation in expressing their opinion, that the respective claimants ought to receive the bounty of one hundred acres earned at the expense of the blood of their fathers and relatives.

KNOX COUNTY, INDIANA

COMMON PLEAS AND COUNTY BUSINESS

1806 - 1810

In this court appeared the estate settlements, sheriffs' sale of property, collection and assessment of the taxes, business pertaining to the roads of the county, appointment of various commissioners as listed, and the business of the building of the new courthouse. This abstract is for the purpose of discovering who the men in the county were.

During this period, the towns of this county were: Harrison, White River, Palmyra, Bosseron, Wabash, Ohio and the county seat, Vincennes.

Serving as judges for this court during the period from 1806 to 1810 were:

James Johnson

Luke Decker

George Leech

The county Clerk

Robert Buntin

Before the new courthouse was built, various private houses were used for the court, and the owners were usually allowed rent and the price of firewood. Men whose houses were used were:

Abraham Defrance

Laurence Bazadone

Antoine Marshall

Thomas Coulter

The election places were also in private homes except in Vincennes where the courthouse, or whatever place served as courthouse for the time was used. In the other townships, these were the polling places.

Bosseron	House of John Hedden
Harrison	House of Walter Wilson
Ohio	House of Daniel Grass
Palmyra	House of Noah Purcell
Wabash	House of Jacob Warrick
White River	House of James Robb
Vincennes	Courthouse

During most sessions, various accounts were paid. Some of these appear in other places. These names of men paid for various reasons are listed alpabetically. Some names appeared many times, some only once.

COURTHOUSE PROJECT

Commissioners for Building: Robert Buntin, Peter Jones

Superintend Building Process: George Wallace Jr., Jacob Kerykendall, Henry Vanderburgh

In 1807 two lots were purchased for $50 each for the new jail. They were located opposite Frederick Grautaus. Commissioners for this purchase were Robert Buntin and John Rice Jones.

In 1808 the bids were advertised for carpenter work and bricklaying. William H. Dunnica was given the scantling contract. He was to provide timbers 3 x 14 or larger at 3.50 per hundred, smaller ones at 3.00 a hundred. The shingles, under the same contract were to be 22 inches long, 4/5" wide, and 1/8 to 3/4 inches thick at 4.86 per thousand. Charles A. Boyles was awarded the contract for foundation stone at 4.50 per bushel. Bids were advertised next for "good sifted shell lime" at 37½ per bushel. Samuel Thompson provided the bricks which were inspected and counted (122,981) by William Lindsey.

1809 Samuel Parr signed an obligation to complete the carpenter work within 12 months from the time the walls were up. Some of the citizens got up a petition during this year to move the location of the building, soon put aside. Robert Buntin was authorized to complete all contracts regarding the court.

COMMON PLEAS AND COUNTY BUSINESS

1807 - 1810

Section II

Judges for these sessions were as in the first volume, with one new addition: Daniel McClure.

In various places there are two other judges mentioned, both of the General Court: Henry Vanderburgh and Benjamin Park.

County Clerk is still Robert Buntin, but by this time he is assisted occasionally by J. Caldwell.

During the 1808 sessions a County Coroner was appointed:

Jacob Kuykendall.

The court house still remained under construction, and two men were paid for the use of their homes as a courtroom: Antoine Marshall and W. Marshall.

The list of practicing lawyers expanded to include these men:

Geo. F. Pope

John Rice Jones

Henry Hurst

David Jameson Vauter

Genl. W. Johnston

John Johnson

Thomas Randolph

Thomas Randolph was appointed the Attorney-General. His deputy was Henry Hurst.

This volume included the various jury lists: Grand, Petit, Arbitrators, and those appointed to these lists who did not appear. Those serving on a grand jury are listed with *. When a man served as an arbitrator, he is listed with @ following his name, and if he served as a petit juror and in another capacity, a p appears after his name. These men all served from 1808 until 1810, some appearing on several lists, others appearing only once. The list appears alphabetical regardless of the date they served.

All of these names appearing in the section of lawsuits were in court; some only as witnesses, some as defandants and others as plaintiffs. The actions covered a variety of complaints, including litigation about estates, assault and battery; trespass, damages, and the most common of all debts of one kind or another. Some of these people appeared in court just one time; others were in court many times, often with one case being dragged on and on. Some men seemed to be in many lawsuits. Many of these appeared before juries. Many others were never carried to a conclusion, but dropped by the parties themselves after they had a time to reconsider their actions. In the next listing are the bail bonds. Some were at recognizance, and others with a price.

During this period the deputy sheriffs are: John McCandless and James Crow. The sheriff is Parmenas Beckes. The former sheriff, William Prince stepped into court a number of times for various reasons, as did his deputy Samuel Hayes.

There were quite a number of justices, bondsmen, securities for offices or recognizance. The listing of bail posted during this session is also listed among the papers of the court docket.

ROADS

As was usual for the time, much of the business of the court pertained to the roads of the county; their maintenance, petitions for new roads, or to eliminate old roads, surveying, and complaints about the roads. The usual rate for surveying during this 1808-1810 period was $2.50 per mile. The Viewers and/or Supervisors of the roads usually lived on the roads they were assigned, and so often were the very men who petitioned for the particular road. The first list is of Viewers and Supervisors, the second listing of names that appeared about locations or petitions, not listed in the first listing.

FERRIES

Just as important to the communities during the day were the ferries over the rivers and streams. The rate of ferrage was set by the court, and those given the right to erect and conduct a ferry were bound to that rate. The Wabash, the White and the Potaka Rivers had established ferries. The rate on the White River was 37½¢ man and horse; 18 3/4¢ single man. The Potaka rates were 6¼¢ for man and horse; 3¢ for man or horse; 50¢ for wagon, team and load; 25¢ for horse cart and load. Rates for the Wabash were not given in this section. Those who applied for ferries and were denied were Joseph Mounts and Thomas J. Nethers, both asked for ferries on their lands. The ferry run by _____ Tipselo (Tyselo) does not state which river it crossed. Others for 1808-1810 were:

General W. Johnston	Across East branch White River
John Decker	White River
Isaac Decker	White River
William Coleman	White River at Rocky Ford
Christopher Wyant	White River
Aquilla Ramsey	Wabash

Petitioning for permission to build dams on their property were:

Isaac Harris 1811 granted
Robert Huston 1811, 1812
Elijah Chapman 1815

Other miscellaneous business for these sessions, and information about the men and women of the county is listed here.

1812 Receipt was filed in 1812 with the names William McIntosh, Mr. Bedford, Genl. John Gibson, William Morrison.
1812 Abraham F. Snapp lost his pay-order and it was replaced.
1811 Henry Ruble was paid for attendance in court.
1811 Elections in Madison township were held at the home of Horace Smith and James McDonald.
1811 The house of Antoine Marshall was used as a court house while the construction continued on the new building.
1812 Noah Purcell was a garnishee-waggoning and rifle gun sold.
1813 William Prince and George R. C. Sullivan were issued certificates of good moral character.
1813 Governor Thomas Posey appeared in court.
1815 James Harrall was given a divorce from his wife Sarah. (The only divorce noted in all of these books)
1815 Genl. W. Johnston filed an affadavit expressing fear that Simon Vanarsdall would do him "bodily injury." Simon was called and acknowledged. He was placed under a $200 bond of good conduct until the next court session. His pledge was Noah Purcell.

The Court House building was still in progress during these years. In 1811 Samuel Parr received the contract to do the roof and carpenter work. Robert Buntin and Pastor Jones were appointed to overseer. William H. Dunnica was paid for the scantling, and for mending wheelbarrows, and rent for his house which was used for the jail. In 1812 the boundaries of the jail were established as follows" beginning in River Wabash opposite the center of street between first of late Francois Bizayon, dec. and lot belonging to heirs of Nicholas Choppard, dec.....thence with that street until it intersects the street between the new court house and Frederick Graeters. Thence with last mentioned street it strikes the street next above the printing office thence with that street to Wabash River, thence down river to the start."

The Sheriff, Parmenas Beckes complained of the jail situation in 1813. At that time the jail consisted of one room, and all prisoners, men and women, debtors and criminals were thrown together there! Sheriff Beckes called it "a crazy situation" and stated that he could not be promising any security there.

FINES AND PUNISHMENTS

During this period there was a wider variety of cases than in the previous years, and the punishments and fines varied more in amount than before. Most of the cases in court were for debt. There were also a great many cases of assault and battery which ranged from a 25¢ fine to $75. One bribery case was tried and fined $5. There were several estate litigations, many trespasses and damages cases. One man was brought into court a number of times for selling merchandise without a certificate. He was tried on several counts of this. The counts he was found guilty of, he kept appealing, and eventually came up with juries which found im blameless! Selling liquor without a license carried a fine of $12, the same amount of the tax. Neglect of duty cost a fine of 50¢. There was one case of harboring and concealing runaway servants, one which involved many people for rioting, and several slander cases. The various slander cases which were fined cost the defendants from $6.66 2/3 to $81.73. There were a few broken covenants and foreign attachment cases in court this session. Robbery cases and those involving larceny were also appearing here. In all instances except one, only fine was levied. The exception was a colored man who, unlike the others, confessed his guilt, and was sentenced to "25 stripes on his bare back well laid on, at some public place in the town of Vincennes, at the hour of one o'clock this day."

During the year 1814 the court was called to order many times. At first only one judge appeared and it was dismissed without transacting any business. The other sessions none of the judges appeared. This book does not show any business, appointments or sessions actually held during this year.

ORIGINAL DEED RECORD BOOK

KNOX COUNTY, INDIANA

The original old Deed Record Book of Knox County is kept in a safe in the Recorder's office in the court house at Vincennes, Indiana. The following list has been copied directly from this book. It will be noted that there are many spellings and misspellings of the same surname. They have been left as the clerk or clerks copied them. One must bear in mind that the early settlers were French. The clerks, however, were usually German or Scotch-Irish. Consequently, the French names have taken an anglicized spelling. The ink is faded, and some of the handwriting is hard to read.

There are several spellings given for almost every name in this index. It is likely that there are some duplications because of this. Whereever more than one spelling makes finding easier the multiple spelling is given, otherwise, just one spelling is given for each name. In the book itself, the names are spelled as they appear each time.
